

Tomme Arthur's Demands

Port Brewing requests the following:

1. Moylan's to sign a settlement agreement stating the following:

a. They will no longer produce, display, give away or sell the Celtic cross tap handle. This also includes use or display of the Celtic cross taps in Moylan's bars and on Moylan's social media sites including Facebook.

b. They will make best efforts to reclaim all Celtic cross tap handles currently in the marketplace specifically:

- i. Send a certified letter to all distributors stating what has happened.
- ii. Request number of handles in inventory from each distributor.
- iii. Recall or replace handles

c. If, in the future, Moylan's decides to produce and sell another design of a stylized cross tap handle, they will avoid any designs likely to be confused with the Lost Abbey's Trademark Celtic Cross.
